NO FLOOD RELIEF DUE FOR A WEEK

Ohio River Rises Two-tenths of a Foot as Result of Heavy Rains

SUFFERING CONTINUES UNABATED

Smallpox Quarantine Lifted Because Authorities Can't Control the Refugees

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—One million dollars for the relief of Ohio sufferers, rendered ed destitute by recent floods, was requested by Representative Stanley in a resolution introduced in the house late today. Food, hospitals, tents and other relief measures are to be provided if the million dollar appropriation is granted.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 24.—A rise of two-tenths of a foot in the flood stage of the Ohio river here, following torrential rains, delayed relief from the two weeks old flood for at least another week. Forecaster Brand stated today that the river would reach nearly 46 feet before the waters would recede again.

The suffering in local suburbs, at Calhoun, Ky.; Enterprise, Ind.; Rockport, Ind.; and Ashbyburg, Ky., and the fear of a break in the Shawneetown, Ill., were old stories today but none the less real. Relief work, fallen into routine, was just as thoroughly prosecuted.

The small pox quarantine has been lifted from the 400 refugees around Ashbyburg, the three victims of the disease having been isolated and every other possible precaution having been taken. The quarantine was lifted mainly because the refugees could not be controlled.

The business men of Calhoun formally indicted an appeal to Congressman Stanley of Kentucky to ask congress for aid.

CAIRO, Ill., Jan. 24.—With water pouring into Missouri, back of Cairo, through a gap in the levee 400 feet long, it is certain the whole of southeast Missouri, below a 49 foot level will be flooded.

Thousands of bushels of corn stored in that section will be lost, along with other supplies.

The steamer Belle of Calhoun, is bringing loads of corn into Cairo from the flood district and doing other relief work.

T. R. SEES STRIKE HEAD

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Theodore Roosevelt, whose interest in the garment workers' strike was aroused a few days ago, called Gertrude Barnum, the leading organizer, to the Outlook office today and held a long conference upon ways and means to bring about a speedy settlement. That men strikers in the garment union who have been out for many weeks, have reached a stage of desperation was shown by further rioting today in certain sections of the factory districts. Thirty shots were fired in one fight and one striker was seriously wounded in a disturbance that began with a clash between strikers and strikebreakers in Brooklyn.

MINE SWINDLER CONVICTED

OSHKOSH, Wis., Jan. 24.—It was believed that an appeal would be asked when Louis De Ryder, convicted of conspiracy to defraud, was brought up for sentence in the circuit court here late today. He was charged with having conspired to defraud Charles E. Voight of Sheboygan of $6,300 in connection with a Colorado "gold mine."

WEATHER

For La Crosse and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Saturday; warmer tonight.

For Wisconsin: Fair tonight and Saturday; warmer tonight.

For Minnesota: Unsettled with probably snow tonight or Saturday; warmer south portion tonight.

For Iowa: Fair tonight with warmer east and south portions; Saturday probably unsettled.

Weather Conditions

Rain or snow has been quite general from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast but the weather is fair throughout that section this morning except in North Carolina and eastern Tennessee where rain continues. Precipitation has also occurred in the north Pacific states and northern plateau region. The pressure continues lowest north of Montana, where a moderate storm is located. It is highest over the plateau region. There has been a decided rise in temperature from the Dakotas to the north Pacific states and an equally decided fall from Texas northeastward to the lake region.

The northwestern low will cause unsettled but generally fair weather in this section tonight and Saturday with higher temperature tonight.

Dudley Field Malone.

Dudley Field Malone, son-in-law of U. S. Senator O'Gorman of New York, is mentioned as the probable appointee as secretary to President-elect Woodrow Wilson. DENY EXISTENCE OF MONEY TRUST

J. P. Morgan & Company Formally Scouts Combine to Control Finance

JIM HILL TESTIFIES BRIEFLY

Great Northern Head Opposes Prohibition of Interlocking Directorates

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Formal denial that a money trust exists was made today by J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. In a carefully prepared statement H. P. Davison, junior partner in the "house of Morgan," filed with the Pujo investigating committee a denial and protest on behalf of the firm against the charges that a "trust" controls money or credit.

"The firm believes," the statement declared, "that there is no such thing, either in form or in fact, as a 'money trust.'"

The Morgan statement was received by the committee, but refused incorporation as a part of its record until after consideration. Discussion of the statement precede the appearance before the committee of James J. Hill, master railroad builder of the northwest. Hill's examination took only ten minutes. He was not quizzed as to his alleged participation in financial control. He emphatically opposed prohibition of "interlocking directorates," declaring that the character of the man who was director for two competing companies was the governing factor.

FIX WILSON'S TEETH

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 24.—Anticipating that he's going to be too busy to attend to such things after March 4, President-elect Wilson came to Philadelphia today to have his teeth fixed. He was accompanied from Princeton by his youngest daughter, Miss Eleanor Wilson, who "Commutes" between her home and the Quaker City every day to study painting.

"The operation will begin at ten and continue until 12," said Gov. Wilson laughingly as he surveyed the group on board his train, "and I have arranged to have a circle of elevated seats for you gentlemen so you won't miss a single detail. Photographers, however, will be barred."

Gov. Wilson left at noon for New York, where he expected to meet Mrs. Wilson and put in an afternoon shopping, in preparation for his inauguration.

BOY SAVES SLEEPERS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 24.—Edward Lewinski, 14, son of the associate editor of a local Polish daily, saved the lives of three families early today when fire destroyed the three story block occupied by the Chicago Five and Ten Cent store.

Groping his way through the smoke-filled halls of the upper floor, the boy aroused the sleeping residents, who barely escaped with their lives. The loss to the building was estimated at $50,000.

HOUSE OF COMMONS DEBATE SUFFRAGE

Crucial Hour of English Woman's Movement Arrives in Parliament

INCLUDED IN REFORM BILL

Amendment Extending the Vote to 'Every Person" Is Offered by Sir Edward Grey

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The crucial hour for votes for women arrived when the house of commons resolved itself into a committee of the whole for the consideration of the franchise reform bill.

Alfred Lyttleton, representing the pro-suffragists, threw down the gauge of battle to those who opposed equal suffrage, when he opened the sitting by offering Sir Edward Grey's amendment to the Asquith bill. The foreign minister leads the cabinet members favoring equal suffrage, while the opponents of the measure are lead by Premier Asquith.

The franchise reform bill proposed the extension of the franchise to "every male person," and the Grey amendment sought to accomplish votes for women by an amendment, striking out the word "male."

Speaking against the Grey amendment, Colonial Secretary Harcourt said:

"The adoption by the women of such methods of violence as London recently has seen, is an excellent indication of the type of mental balance to be expected on their part, should women be enfranchised."

SHOOTS HOTEL CLERK

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 24.—Sidney Kacser, 33, night clerk of Summit hotel, Fourth and Jackson streets, was shot and dangerously wounded today by George Spencer, foreman Murphy Iron works, Chicago, a roomer at the hotel.

MANUEL REPORTED TO HAVE ELOPED

VIENNA, Jan. 24.—A special dispatch from St. Petersburg today said that former King Manuel of Portugal had run away with a noted Moscow beauty, daughter of the richest Jewish merchant in that city.

This latest love affair of the amorous Manuel, who forfeited his crown for the night life of Paris, is said to have begun in the French capital. It was a case of fascination at first sight, according to the story, and Manuel followed the girl to Moscow.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Former King Manuel of Portugal, whose elopement with a beautiful Jewish heiress of Moscow was reported from Vienna today, was with friends at Richmond, in Surrey. London friends discredited the elopement story.

BARGAIN HUNTERS DIE IN COLLAPSE

Dry Goods Store Crushed by Falling Walls While Big Sale Is in Progress

AT LEAST EIGHT ARE DEAD

Estimates of Fatalities in Fire and Wreck Put as High as Sixty

M'KINNEY, Texas, Jan. 24.—Eight people were killed and fifteen injured in the fire and collapse of the Mississippi Dry Goods company's building here yesterday, according to the estimates made by men directing the work of rescue this morning. The work of digging in the ruins were resumed at daylight and it was said there was a possibility that more dead bodies would be found.

The department store collapsed when the walls of an adjoining building, owned by the Tingley Implement company fell and crashed into it. A sale was going on in the store at the time and the number of people in it at the time cannot be estimated.

Some of the rescuers still stick to their statement that at least 60 people had perished. Stories of terrible suffering were told by some of the rescued who were able to talk. Men and women were slowly incinerated by the fire that broke out after the collapse of the building.

Mayor Finch again took charge of the work of rescue today. Progress was slow because the ruins were still smoldering, and it was likely that it would be night before it will be known definitely how many lives were lost.

Very few persons slept during the night. Most of the town remained up and watched the diggers in the blackened mass of wreckage where it was feared still other bodies were buried.

Notable among the heroic rescues was that performed by John Kistler, a merchant across the street from the department store. He saw the walls of the store go down. His wife and daughter had entered there but a few moments before. Risking his life, he crawled under the broken down walls and dragged them out.

The public schools closed here today and few business houses except those supplying necessities were attempting to do any business. Six Dallas undertakers arrived on a morning train to help prepare the bodies of the dead for burial. The towns of Plano, Greenville and Paris sent doctors and nurses.

There was much praise spoken today for Dr. J. K. Knight, who crawled into the wreckage and with wet sponges and restoratives passed to him by aids on the outside, kept alive Miss Lena Searcy until other men could lift the pile of broken boards that were holding her prisoner. Miss Searcy's sister was killed.

One of the most pathetic incidents of the disaster was told today of N. R. Presley, a clerk, who was pinned beneath burning timbers.

"Give me a pistol,' he said. "I must kill myself. I'm burning up." He died a few minutes later, the crowd looking on, helpless to save him.

Jackscrews were used to rescue Mrs. Belle Williams, who was pinned under heavy timbers. She gave her rescuers directions as to how to proceed, and sang a hymn while the men dragged away the debris.

Mrs. Lynn Perry, a society leader of Fort Worth, Texas, suddenly became ill at her home there. All the doctors had left to come to the aid of the injured here, and the woman died without medical attention.

CLAIMS SLINGSBY CHILD

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 24.—That her illegitimate child, born in California September 1, 1910, was given by Dr. Harvey next day to Dr. W. W. Fraser of Weaverville, Cal., who promised to provide the infant with a good home, was the statement today of Mrs. Fred Certain of 522 Parker avenue.

"Several months later Dr. Fraser told me my boy was substituted for the stillborn child of Mrs. Slingsby of Yorkshire, Eng.," said Mrs. Certain.

The Englishman is endeavoring to prove he is the legitimate father of the "substituted" child in order to come into control of a $500,000 inheritance.

GET LOGUE SUSPECT

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—The Logue murder mystery was revived today when police gave out news of the arrest in a small town near Davenport, Iowa, of Harry Cramer, who is alleged to have had long relations with the murdered diamond merchant and to have some knowledge that may clear up the crime. Joseph H. Logue, a dealer in diamonds, was murdered with fiendish cruelty in his office here six weeks ago.

BRADY SUCCEEDS HEYBURN

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 24.—James H., Brady, former governor, today was elected United States senator from Idaho to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Heyburn. Senator Borah was re-elected for the long term two weeks ago.

POLICE FORCE TO JOIN ASSOCIATION

Asked to Become ,Members of the Associated Charities to Assist in Relief Work

WEBER SAID TO FAVOR THE PLAN

Will Report Cases Needing Attention to the Officials of the Society

In an attempt to increase the efficiency of the Associated charities, the board of directors of that organization have decided to admit the members of the police department to membership in the society. In the letter sent to Chief of Police John Webber by Miss Winnifred Salisbury, secretary of the Associated charities today she outlined the methods by which the police can be of great assistance to the charity workers. She proposes on the behalf of the board of directors that the chief of police become an active member of the standing commitee on humane work.

Chief Webber has not as yet replied to the letter but it is understood that he favors the plan proposed by the Charities association as it adds very little to the duties of the police force and may be of great assistance to the society.

Miss Salisbury's letter to the chief of police is given herewith:

"January 23, 1913.

"J. B. Webber, Chief of Police, La Crosse, Wis.

"Dear Sir: At a recent meeting of the board of directors of this organization, it was decided to admit the chief of police and all members of the force as full members of the society without payment of dues. This plan is adopted in view of the very efficient helpt hat the police department can and does give in connection with our work for the proper care and treatment of dumb animals. Our humane agent, Mr. Sol Burdick, can not do all that needs to be done because of the impossibility of being in more than one place at a time, and we shall all appreciate any help which may be given by your department. May I call your attention to chapter 40 of the Wisconsin statutes, 1909, which gives police powers regarding neglected animals?

"In regard to neglected or mistreated or destitute children it is hoped that the men of the police force will immediately report to this office any instances that they find, that we may both relieve immediate distress and endeavor to bring about better conditions permanently.

"I should like the names of all the men in your department so that they may be entered among our members. May we also ask you to send monthly reports showing the cases reported to you by each man?

"Our standing commitee on humane work at present consists of Rev. Henry Faville, E. S. Hebberd and J. E. McConnell. I am instructed to ask you also to be a member of that committee. They hold regular meetings on the second Tuesday of each month in this office, of which notice will be sent you at the proper time.

"Yours very truly,
"MISS WINNIFRED SALISBURY,
"General Secretary."

INDICT ARSON RING

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Indictments charging arson were returned today against Joseph Clarke, a wealthy insurance adjuster of social standing here; Samuel Rottenberg, alleged to be a go-between; John Kapecak, charged with firing buildings or hiring agents to have it done; and Harry Brown. Additional indictments are expected to be voted by the grand jury in the next few days.

The men were indicted after confessions had been obtained by the states attorney's assistant.

WEBB WINS TOGA

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 24.—W. R. Webb was elected U. S. senator for the short term, displacing Newell Saunders, republican, for the unexpired term of the late Robert Love Taylor.

EDISON TOO BUSY TO ACCEPT MEDAL

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Jan. 24.—When Mrs. Thomas A. Edison finally succeeded today in getting her husband to admit her to his laboratory, she presented him with the medal awarded by the American Museum of Safety, last night. Edison, who had not left his laboratory for three months, had sent his wife and daughter to the presentation ceremonies. She explained to the museum officials that he was working night and day on his new talking-motion picture invention, the "kinetophone," and was too busy to receive the medal in person.

The medal, awarded for the greatest electrical device for conserving human life, was given Mrs. Edison to take to him.

Mankato Man Shoots Guard on Train Pulling Into Milwaukee

WAS BELIEVED TO BE UNARMED

Patient Was Being Taken to Sanitarium for Treatment for Mental Disorder

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 24.—Alec J. Schutte, 28, of Mankato, Minn., shot and instantly killed Joseph Budde, 45, also of Mankato, shortly before ten o'clock today as the Milwaukee road train on which the two were riding, was pulling into the station here. He then fatally shot himself.

Budde was bringing Schutte to a local sanitarium where he was to receive treatment. As the train was pulling into the station, Schutte, who was believed to be unarmed, suddenly whirled and fired. The ball penetrated Budde's temple and he died instantly. Turning the weapon on himself, the assassin fired two shots, one entering just below the collarbone and the other penetrating the abdomen. He died on the way to the hospital. There was a near panic in the train.

Schutte was a mail carrier in Mankato until about a year ago when he suffered from a mental disorder for which he was to be treated here. Mr. Budde has been in the employ of Schutte's father.

Where Schutte secured the revolver is a mystery. Advices from Mankato says he was carefully searched before leaving home.

MANKATO, Minn., Jan 24.—Threats against the life of Governor Eberhart had been recently made by Alec Schutte who murdered Patrolman Budde on a Milwaukee train this morning. Schutte was known to some to be a dangerous man, carrying a revolver and a dirk, but Budde was a close friend of the family and anticipated no trouble. Budde leaves a wife and seven children.

COMPANY TO RUN STORE

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The 20,000 employes of the New York Street Railways company will be better able to combat the problem of high cost of living so far as concerns food and necessary clothing. The company intends to establish co-operative stores on its own property where the necessities of life may be purchased by its men at actual cost. The first intimation of this plan came last night at the annual entertainment of the Employes' Mutual Benefit association, in the speech of Theodore H. Shonts, the president. Shonts first told the men that the company had decided to make wage increases amounting to $150,000 a year, averaging 10 per cent to each employe.

YOUNG TURKS ARE IN THE SADDLE

Radical Party Seizes Reins of Government and Rejects All Offers of Peace

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 24.—The new Turkish cabinet today decided to recall the Ottoman peace plenipotentiaries from London forthwith. This will preclude a resumption of peace negotiations and can be construed to mean only that the Young Turks are determined to carry on the war. The first official act of the new cabinet, after recalling the London plenipotentiaries was to recall for court martial the Turkish ambassadors at Vienna and St. Petersburg. Those diplomats were accused of failing to maintain strong policies in behalf of their home government, as against the allies.

Russia Urges Intervention

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 24.—It was reported today that the Russian government had made representations to the triple alliance and the triple entente that the great powers should forget all minor differences and at once intervene in Turkey. The Russian note was said to have stated that it was necessary to summarily coerce the Ottoman government into making peace with the Balkans.

VIENNA, Jan. 24.—The proposed demobilization of Austria-Hungary's military reservists has been abandoned.

The Austrian diplomats regard the Ottoman situation as most alarming.

Anarchy Prevails

Anarchy, stalking close behind revolution, was threatened throughout the Ottoman empire today. The police made a semblance of attempting to keep order, but the process was much like pouring water into a sieve. As soon as a prison would be filled with rioters, a mob would storm the place and liberate them.

In addition to the title of military commander of Constantinople, which he forced the sultan to confer on him, Enver Bey had assumed the title of chief of staff, left vacant by the assassination of Nazim Pasha, and in reality he is the military dictator of Turkey.

Official inquiry today placed the blame for the death of Nazim Pasha on his own aides. Enver Bey and Talaat, who led the demonstration that forced the retirement of the Kiamil Pasha cabinet, gave strict orders that there should be no violence and no discharge of firearms. As they passed the porte, surrounded by their colleagues, of the committee for union and progress, Nazim Pasha threw up an upper window to see what it

MEN WHO FEED LA CROSSE FED

A. L. Goetzmann, Manager of Listman Mills, Banquets Grocers at Stoddard Hotel

AN ACQUAINTANCE MEETING

Business Relationship Cemented by Evening of Food and Fun

A. L. Goetzmann last night fed the men who feed La Crosse.

Mr. Goetzmann is general manager of the Listman Mills.

The men who feed La Crosse, of course, are the grocers and, led by Secretary Harry Taggart, they were there seventy strong. The banquet, which was one of the most elaborate of its kind ever given in this city, was served at the Hotel Stoddard and for three solid hours those who attended got their fill of food and fun. From the opening toast offered by the host, "Let's Get Acquainted," to the impromptu reception held by the officers of the milling company on the little vaudeville stage at the close of the evening, the purpose and effect of the banquet as expressed by Mr. Goetzmann's toast was accomplished to the mutual satisfaction of hosts and guests.

Royal Entertainment

The entire dining room was turned over to the diners and there was not a moment without its entertainment. The Manhattans were raised and "lowered" to Mr. Goetzman's toast, the blue points fulfilled their destiny to the soft strains of music furnished by the orchestra. The cream of tomato and filet of trout was served with a lively little vaudeville performance which was given at one end of the dining room on an impromptu stage. The Galvin troupe, which is playing at the Majestic, appeared in full force and made an instantaneous hit. Their songs and dances shared the attention of the grocers with the "Old Style" which appeared to whet the appetite for the roast turkey. Seventy odd steins were wagged to the rythm of the raggy music and Frank Koppelberger's proteges were cheered to the echo as they filed out at the end of their act.

With the clearing away of the desert and the passing of cigars, a short program of after dinner speeches was given. Mr. Goetzmann praised the hospitality of La Crosse in a glowing eulogy to the grocers and other business men, in which he said nowhere in his business experience had the right hand of fellowship been more cordially extended to him than in this city.

Murray Responds

J. B. Murray, president of the Grocers' association, responded in behalf of the guests and made a strong plea for the support of La Crosse institutions by La Crosse business men.

"The entire consumption of flour in this city for a month would hardly equal one day's output of the Listman Mills," he said, "but the grocers of this city should have Marvel flour on sale, not only because it is the best flour on the market, but for the principle of the thing."

Mr. Murray called the grocers' attention to the fact that no outside business has donated great parks and public school buildings and urged the grocers to show the Hixon family their appreciation for their deeds of philanthropy in La Crosse. "The Listman Mills are owned and operated by home capital," he said, "and should receive the hearty co-operation of every merchant in the city. Marvel flour is sold in every inhabited country in the world and has advertised this city as no other product shipped from here. Let us do our share toward the prosperity of this great institution."

In introducing Mr. E. S. Woodworth, president of the Woodworth Grain company of Minneapolis, as speaker of the evening, Mr. Goetzmann referred to the broker as one of the most serious minded business men in his acquaintance.

"Apropos of which," said Mr. Woodworth—and the fun was on. If anything was needed to settle the elaborate meal which the guests had finished, Mr. Woodworth settled it. He settled it almost to extinction. As he talked the grocers laughed, and the more he talked the more they laughed. "Jim" Murray expressed the sentiment of nearly all when he said, "I laughed until I got a 'crick' in my neck and then I could laugh no more." Mr. Woodworth proved himself a royal entertainer and also convinced his hearers that he could talk on serious subjects when the occasion demanded. He paid fine tribute to his friend, Mr. Goetzmann, whom he said merits the acquaintance of every business man in La Crosse.

At the close of Mr. Woodworth's talk the guests surrounded the table at which were seated Mr. Frank Hixon, Mr. Goetzmann and his staff of assistants and the mill men held a real hand-to-hand acquaintanceship meeting with t heir guests to whom Mr. Goetzmann promised the banquet will become an annual event.

OPPOSES RURAL CREDIT.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24—Assemblyman Edward Nordman of Langlade county has issued a statement declaring that Governor McGovern is proceeding on the wrong theory in advocating a rural credit system for the development of northern Wisconsin's unsettled acres. Himself a believer in the single tax, Mr. Nordman asserts that the control of the wild land and not some kind of fiduciary interest in it should be the basic ground for solution of the problem.

No, Felice, an agent and a nerve specialist are not essentially the same, although your mistake is natural enough.

It's the easiest thing in the world for a pretty woman to manage a man—if she isn't married to him.

Most of us would rather accept another man's cigars than his advice.

GARDEN SAGE DARKENS GRAY HAIR SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

Restores Its Lustre, Prevents Scalp Itching, Dandruff and Falling Hair

That beautiful, even shade or dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. While it is a mussy, tedious task it well repays those whose hair is turning gray, faded and streaked.

Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair and is the best thing known to remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody chooses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. It certainly helps folks look years younger and twice as attractive, says a well-known downtown druggist. O. T. Erhart, agent.

THE SLAVERY OF INDEBTEDNESS

The current Pictorial Review contains an anonymous article written by a young woman whose husband's salary is insufficient to keep him out of debt. This woman has given a name to a species of industrial slavery which exists everywhere, but which has not been recognized because the condition of servitude is apt to be charged to incompetence instead of to its real cause.

A man has a wife and children. His employer pays him a salary so small that he is hounded by debts. He falls into a state of bondage, because while he cannot make a decent living at the task he holds, he dare not leave it for fear of the utter want that even a week of idleness would entail for his family. His employer may know of his straits, and the meaner kind may take advantage of that knowledge to refuse an increase in salary which the employe earns and deserves.

That sort of talk is apt to encourage incompetent and undeserving men to assume the role of abused geniuses, but there are no doubt plenty of cases where the condition actually exists. Life is too short to endure it forever, and in most cases the victim would profit in the long run by burning his bridges and challenging fortune for a new deal.

MEDFORD PROFITS BY NEW CITY MARKET

Medford, Oregon, established a city market last May. It was the first city in Oregon to try this experiment about which there has been so much discussion in La Crosse, and perhaps the experience of the western city, which has approximately but about 10,000 inhabitants, may be of interest to those who have followed the debate here. We quote from the Medford Mail Tribune of January 1st a portion of an article discussing that city's experience during the seven months in which the market has been in operation:

"Medford's public market has been an unqualified success. It has not only helped solve the high cost of living, but also the high cost of selling. It has brought the consumer and producer together, increased the profits of the grower and reduced the price paid by the consumer.

"Sales during the summer and autumn averaged $2,000 a week. Over $350 of berries and cherries were sold a day during the season. From 300 to 400 dressed chickens have been marketed weekly. Many tons of green vegetables have been sold and are being sold, every month. Thousands of sacks of potatoes and onions and approximately three cars of cabbage have been disposed of at a profit to the grower. Many barrels of cider and vinegar have been disposed of.

"What the market has meant to the farmers is shown by the sales they have made. J. G. Goldove of Gold Hill, sold $500 worth of cherries in eight days. O. J. Ames of Tolo has marketed over 900 sacks of potatoes and in addition averaged over $150 a month from vegetables and produce. Most of the 24 booths have been occupied since the market opened.

"The price of meat has been materially cut and the farmer enabled to market his surplus. Without the meat, the success of the market would be problematical. With it, the success is beyond all question.

"The farmers are bringing to the market at present plenty of good dressed pork, cider, vinegar, celery, sour kraut, dried prunes, almonds, sorghum, pop corn, sweet cider, boiled cider, pumpkins, squash, cabbage, lettuce, radishes and in fact all sorts of vegetables. There will be home grown lettuce, radishes and onions in the market all winter. Butter and eggs are scarce.

"The market has been a stimulant for growing of produce and garden truck. Another year and the supply will be much greater, the variety more extended. More than that, the market has almost paid its own expenses from the nominal booth rentals.

"What the market has meant to the people of Medford, they themselves know. It has reduced materially the cost of living. It has been an unqualified success and should point the way to other co-operative efforts to bring producer and consumer together.

"The meats sold at the market are beef, pork, mutton, lamb and veal.

"The morning this was written there were 264 boxes of apples on display. We have 24 booths in the public market, twenty of which rent for $3.00 per month each and three day booths at 20 cents per day.

"The cash receipts of the public market for booth rent, commencing June 1, 1912, and ending December 10, 1912, were $408.95."

The Tribune believes as positively as ever that we need no public institution in La Crosse so much as a public market, and that no other public institution would so promptly and directly inure to the financial benefit of its consumers of food products. We suggest that a revival of the question in La Crosse would be important and timely.

HERE'S "DADDY'S BEDTIME STORY"

Every day, beginning Saturday, January 25, there will appear in The Tribune a new feature entitled, "Daddy's Bedtime Story."

No, dear reader, this isn't the story that daddy tells mammy about how he happened to go to bed so late. It's a real story for the real children who read The Tribune, or whose father, mother, brothers and sisters read The Tribune. The stories are taken from history or mythology, and are written in that simple and intimate way that appeals to children. If they get started on it, your children of eight, nine, ten, or even fifteen years, will be found waiting for it every evening. We suggest that parents call the attention of the little ones to these stories. They are short—not more than five minutes' reading—just enough to quiet the mind of the child, excited after the day's play, and start him off to slumberland.

A one armed man in Yonkers was given six months for hugging a girl. If he had been blessed with two arms he would probably have got a year.

The new school of journalism may turn out journalists, but the only school that can turn out newspaper men is the old school of experience.

London has 8,000 taxicabs. No wonder three-quarters of the population is kept on the verge of poverty.

A New York man has just been married for the eleventh time. But he hasn't married Lillian Russell yet.

The Plumber's Revenge

A Springburn woman, who is not noted for her liberality, had a somewhat unpleasant experience the other day. A corporation workman had arrived at her house to fix up a "free" gas cooker, and the housewife thought to profit by the occasion by having her parlor chandelier hung. The man was agreeable, and the task occupied the greater part of his meal hour. His labor was rewarded with—a plate of soup, which he refused.

The workman, however, was possessed of the stuff of which diplomats are made. He said nothing, but before leaving requested a further loan of the steps, remarking, "That chandelier is na hingin' richt, an' I'm fared o' an escape." When the woman entered the room some time afterwards to see what improvement had been effected, she discovered the chandelier lying under the table. And she is now awaiting the bill from one of the local plumbers. — Glasgow News.

Figuratively speaking, an old bachelor nearly always hugs himself when he sees a poor, meek looking man trying to quiet a squalling infant.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

My Lady's Hat

A little bunch of bent and battered felt;
A quarter's worth of lace that's hardly seen;
Two rooster feathers stuck up on the top;
A bunch of artificial grapes between,
A paper rose or two pinned on the side,
A silver buckle, value fifteen cents;
A velvet ribbon hangin' down behind—
The whole thing made "regardless of expense."

The thing looks like a soup plate upside down.
It hangs around her head, before and aft.
Looks drooping like and wilted, from the rain;
The whole effect's enough to drive one daft.

A man should beat a sewing basket up
Until it looks like nothing on this earth,
And trim it up and make his wife a hat,
For then he'd surely get his money's worth.
Bill for
Her bonnet,
Ten plunks
Doggone it.

Thoughtful

A young mill hand, having lost his sweetheart through his own hotheaded folly, first threatened to commit suicide, and then became vulgarly insistent in his demands for the return of the presents he had given her, says the Manchester Guardian.

"What good will they be to you if you're goin' to drown yourself in th' mill pond?" she scoffed.

"Never you mind, I want them back," he said, evasively.

"Very well, I'll se that you have them," the girl reluctantly agreed.

But five days passed, and the young man still bemoaned the loss of the furfeited trinkets. Once more he requested their return.

"Oh, lad, I wish you'd stop worryin' me," sighed the girl anxious by now for a reconciliation. "I've given th' presents up long since. They're waiting for you at th' bottom o' th' mill pond, tied up in a red handkerchief; you can't miss but see 'em when you jump in."

An Epigram

"That wasn't a bad epigram on the magistrate's part," said the somewhat educated tramp, who had been convicted for vagrancy.

"What did he say?" asked the tramp's pal.

"Seven days," came the reply.

"That ain't no epigram, is it."

"I'm sure it is. I asked a parson once what an epigram was, and he says, 'It's a short sentence that sounds light, but gives you plenty to think about.'"—London Opinion.

The Punch In It

Marinus Kooy, the son of Holland's leading brewer, is here to study American beer making.

"While nourishing is the feature of German beer," he said in New York the other day, "strength is the feature of American beer. German beer for paunch—American beer for punch.

"On this head I'll tell you a story.

"An American had spent the evening in a rathskeller over stein after stein of American beer, with good company and good music; and it was about 2 o'clock in the morning when he reached home.

"Feeling, of course, thirsty, he opened a bottle of American beer in the dining room, filled a glass, then stumbled over a chair and spilled the contents of the glass on the floor.

"He was about to wipe up the little pool, when, to his amazement, he saw a tiny mouse trot up and begin to lap the beer eagerly.

"The man sat very quiet. The mouse lapped and lapped away. As the pool diminished and the beer's punch got in its work the saund of the little creature's lapping became less restrained and cautious. In fact, on toward the end it got quite noisy.

"And when at last the beer was all gone the mouse sat up on its haunches, sneered at the man contemptuously and squeaked in a bellicose little voice:

Repartee of the Caddy

A beginning at golf was on the occasion taking an unconscionable time to get round a seaside course near Edinburgh. Several holes had been "played" in a manner which produced a look of disgust in the face of the caddy. Getting badly bunkered, the gentleman tried several clubs, one after the other, without success. Turning to his caddy he inquired: "What should I take now, boy?" To this the caddy promptly responded: "Ye should tak' the 4.25 back tae Edinburg."—London Evening Standard.

MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Chronic, Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of New Remedy are Taken

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibley cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three does a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

Pimples Source of Great Danger

Bid Farewell to All Blood and Skin Diseases.

The research laboratory of The Swift Specific Co. has collected a vast amount of information regarding the spread of blood diseases. In thousands of instances the most virulent types have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its producers the famous S. S. S. may now be had at almost any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone among specific remedies as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than from disease germs direct. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. to-day of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

NEW WAGE EXEMPTION.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24. — A wage exemption bill will appear in a new form at this session of the legislature. The measure will be presented by Assemblyman Charles H. Everett of Racine. His bill will provide that in order to claim the $60 exemption now allowed, the family of the wage earner must live within the state. In explanation of his proposed law he declares that many foreigners and others contract store bills and that in many cases these men have families living in the old country or in other states. They claim protection under the present wage exemption law.

FILE INTENTION.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—The Hercules Powder company of Wilmington, Del., has filed with the Wisconsin secretary of state a notice of intention to transact business in this state. The company's capital is $6,500,000, of which amount $236,595.68 is invested in Wisconsin. H. M. Smith of Pleasant Prairie, Kenosha county, is state manager.

103 TESTERS PASS.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—In the recent examinations held throughout the state for laymen testers, under the tuberculin test law, 103 were successful.

THE FIRESIDE SERMON

By Lucius C. Clark, D. D.
Friday, January twenty-fourth, 1913
Isaiah, 47, 14

"There shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before."

As you draw the easy chair before the grate tonight and the children come close with their chairs and cheer, wouldn't it be a good thing to tell them of the friend and father who put the coal in the earth. The leaves happened to fall when they did, but they never happened to go through a process that made them into coal through the centuries.

THE MARRIAGE OF CAPTAIN KETTLE

By G. J. Cutcliffe Hyne,
Copyright The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

"Then the conversation, as far as I am concerned, will end."

"Not at all. If you wish me to explain, I will do so. I brought Miss Chesterman and her brother here as a means to an end.'

"Precisely."

"You say precisely. Then you recognize that it was to bring you here, Emily, that I used them?"

"I recognize nothing of the sort. And you will please remember that my name to you, and for that matter to everybody else, is Miss Dubbs."

"For the present, if you like, Miss Dubbs it shall be. For the future we shall see. In the meanwhile I have the honor to offer you marriage."

"What, you want to marry me?"

"As you have known perfectly well all along. Now come, dear girl, let us look facts in the face. You are piqued for the moment and raw (if you like) from a trivial disappointment. From your own telling the affaire Kettle was only one of many."

"It was nothing of the kind."

"Well, have it your own way. But your engagement with him is at an end. Now look at what I can offer you—lands, houses, servants, wealth, power. Did you ever think of the sweets of absolute sway, Emily? You will be a queen, with power of life and death over all your subjects, and if I know your capacity I shall be one of those subjects also. You will want an English girl as companion. I give you Miss Chesterman. If you wish for a larger kingdom I will conquer it for you. Everything that power can get and love can think of will be yours. And please remember this: I have loved you from the first moment I put eyes on you, and determined then to make you my queen if love could do it."

Miss Dubbs stood up and looked steadily down into the man's blue eyes. "I'm sorry you've spoken," she said. "But you'll give me credit for trying to head you off from proposing."

"I know that, but I'd too much at stake to take your hint. Besides, I wanted to lay out fairly before you what I have to offer."

"I would rather you did not go on, because there can be only one answer, and that's 'no.' There could be no lady more conscious of the compliment you have paid me, Saint, and the offer to make me a queen is, of course, extremely fascinating. But marrying's a thing I'm set against, and there you have the whole tale in a nutshell. I should like, if you would let me, to regard you always as a very close friend, but it will never get beyond that. And now it would be more comfortable for both of us if you changed the subject."

"No." The Berber chief's blue eyes grew hard, and his brown beard stuck out aggressively. "I have offered you the easy path, Emily, and I have made my proposal to you on honorable English lines. But there is too much at stake to let you upset all my schemes for the sake of a paltry whim. To this valley and this rock you have come, and here you will stay for the rest of your natural life. Make no mistake about that. Again I ask: will you be queen?"

"I'd rather die first," said Miss Dubbs shortly.

"You can guess the alternative?"

"I prefer to remember that you are a gentleman with an English education, and that, therefore, you won't make threats."

"It would be better if you made no allusion to the unfortunate circumstance of my upbringing. I can tell you it has been the curse of my existence, and the detail of my gentility is beginning to wear very thin. At present, Emily, I am supreme kaid of the Western Atlas Berbers, with power of life and death, and fortune over everything within my marches, and am in no mood to be thwarted." The blue eyes gazed hungrily on the English girl's splendid womanhood. "So you can be assured of just one broad fact. My wife you are going to be, and it would be more comfortable for both of us if you came to me willingly."

"That I never will."

"Then I shall leave you for the time being to think out for yourself the obvious alternatives. I am sure that when you have conned over the matter coolly, you will take the sensible view. You are a sensible, level-headed girl, Emily, and I believe it is that which attracted me to you at the first. I will go now. And I will come back for your favorable decision at ten o'clock tonight."

CHAPTER XXIII.
The Captain Disposes.

Sid Mahommed Bergash once told Sir George Chesterman that tradition in the Atlas said the architect who built the campanile in Saint Mark's Square at Venice was a Berber, and that he got his idea for the inclined footways of that much overrated bell-tower from the mode of descent to the siege-well in his ancestral fortress. The legend may or may not be true, but, anyway, it is plausible, and except that the man at Venice turned the idea inside out, and from a well evolved a tower, and incidentally eased the angles of the inclines, the plans of the two works are identical.

Captain Kettle felt that he could not afford matches, and, after the day had passed, explored the slopes in the inky dark. So, as I have only his report to go upon, details will, for the most part, be lacking in this memoir. The cut was only a trifle over four feet wide, so he could easily keep a hand on each wall, and having all of a sailor's distrust for navigation in strange waters, he always took a careful sounding with his advance foot, and assured himself that the floor was in place, before putting weight on it. There are such things as winzes in these inclined shafts, and Captain Kettle did not propose to walk into eternity unawares, if ordinary precaution could keep him alive and useful.

Of course, as he foresaw, the critical bit was the last hundred feet, which, as the saint had told, the old sinkers had driven vertically. It is easy to be wise after the event, but really if Captain Kettle had been the slenderest student of archaeology, his qualms on this point would have been at rest. The windlass is a comparatively modern machine, and the sinking of that first hundred feet of well-shaft had antedated it by certainly ten, and very possibly twenty centuries.

DISORDERED NERVES

sometimes start from mental strain or indigestion, but more often from general weakness, and lead to appalling conditions unless checked.

Treat the cause, not the effect.

SCOTT'S EMULSION overcomes nervousness in a wonderful, permanent way by making life-sustaining blood corpuscles; it nourishes the nerve centres and acts as a bracing tonic to build you up.

HULL HAS NEW PLAN.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—Speaker Merlin Hull has discovered a new method of holding committee hearings which he believes will save much time, and some members of the legislature claim that it will cut the session six weeks shorter than usual. All bills containing appropriations, whether relating to schools, railroads or what else, must be referred to the finance committee which must hold a joint session with the committee to which it will naturally be first referred.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Kit" writes: "I am far below normal weight. I suffer with headaches and am nervous to the point of exhaustion. If you can tell me something to help me I shall be very grateful."

Answer: I can prescribe nothing so effective as a thorough course of three grain hypo-nuclane tablets. These tablets will aid in extracting the nutrition from the food which will increase the red blood supply, overcome nervousness and you will become plump and healthy. This treatment should be continued for several months, as it takes time to change the tissues and cells of the body.

"Sarah" says: "Can anything be done for one who is bothered with rheumatism. If so, please reply."

Answer: "You can be entirely cured of your rheumatism if you take the following: Mix by shaking well and take a teaspoonful at meal time and at bed time and you will soon be cured. Comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; syrup sarsaparilla comp., 5 ozs.; wine fo colchicum, one-half oz.; sodium salicylate, 4 drams; iodide of potassium, 2 drams.

"Ray" writes: "Can a sufferer from bronchial trouble be relieved Doctors do not seem to help me, what would you suggest?"

Answer: To cure chronic cold, sore throat and bronchitis, I would advise the use of concentrated essence mentho-laxene. Purchase this at any drug store in 2½ oz. packages and mix according to directions given on bottle and you will very shortly be cured of all bronchial trouble. This will not only relieve, but will cure, and is very pleasant to take.

"Hulda" says: "I cannot eat without great distress after eating. I am sleepless and restless, nervous and irritable. Can you tell me anything that would cure me."

Answer: Your trouble is all due to your stomach which causes the nervous, restless feeling. Take tablets triopeptine and you will soon be cured of all this trouble. These are packed in sealed cartons and are pink, white and blue tablets to be taken after meals. Take the pink tablet after breakfast, white after dinner, blue after supper. If this is continued the curative agencies will soon restore natural digestion.

"Miss M." writes: "I suffer greatly with my nerves, am almost on the point of nervous prostration. I cannot sleep and am hysterical at times. Can you help me?"

Answer: Many women, old and young, who have suffered as you do, have been cured by using the following tonic restorative treatment: Get from your druggist 1 oz. tincture cadomene (not cardamon) and 5 ozs. syrup of hypophosphites comp., mix and take a teaspoonful before each meal. Always shake well before taking.

Miss T. R. asks: "Do you think a weight of 190 pounds is too much for a girl of medium height; and what can I safely take to reduce about 30 pounds?"

Answer: Your weight is excessive and if it increases it may cause much suffering and embarrassment. I advise the regular use of 5 grain arbolene tablets, which are sold by most pharmacies in sealed tubes with full directions for self administration.

"Carpenter" writes: "My liver and kidneys are in a bad condition. I have dizzy spells and dark spots before my eyes. Also have twinges of rheumatism. Can I be helped?"

Answer: To cure kidney and liver trouble use three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur). These are packed in sealed tubes with full directions for taking. They act pleasantly and tone up the bowels and liver and purify the blood. They are convenient, effective and highly curative.

"Phoebe"—The following will cure your children of bedwetting: Get 2 drams of tincture rhus-aromatic; 1 dram tincture cubebs and 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort. Mix and give the child from 10 to 15 drops in water about one hour before each meal.

"Maud" writes: "I have suffered a great deal with catarrh. It gives me headaches, affects my eyes and my breath is awful. Can you prescribe something to cure it. Only my nostrils and throat are affected."

Answer: I have prescribed antiseptic vilane powder and grateful letters from hundreds indicate that it is speedily curative, but must be used occasionally to prevent a recurrence. Get a two ounce original package of vilane powder; use a half teaspoonful to a pint of warm water. From the palm of the hand snuff the water through the nostrils until thoroughly cleansed, two or three times daily. Mix a level teaspoonful of vilane powder with an ounce of lard or vaseline and apply well up into the nostrils twice daily and your catarrh should soon be cured.

"Onda" writes: "I am troubled with itching scalp, dandruff and my hair is falling out. It is harsh and brittle."

Answer: Plain Yellow Minyol is the best remedy for itching scalp, falling hair and dandruff that I know of. It can be bought in 4 oz. jars and if used according to directions will cure all diseases of the hair and scalp. If the hair is harsh and brittle and you are bothered with those straggling locks, the use of minyol will restore that soft, fluffy appearance and bring back the intense natural color.

FRANKLIN CLUB GIVES BANQUET

More Than 100 Guests Present at Celebration of Twenty-sixth Anniversary

POLITICS SUBJECT OF SPEECHES

Wit and Humor of Orators Adds to the Gayety of the Evening

As a fitting celebration of the birthday of its illustrious namesake, Benjamin Franklin, philosopher-statesman, and of its own twenty-sixth anniversary the Franklin club gave a banquet at the north side Presbyterian church last night at which more than 100 guests were present. With Otto M. Schlabach acting as toastmaster, a program of seven minute speeches completed the evening. The speeches were for the most part of a political trend but not of so serious a nature as to seriously interfere with the digestion of the banqueters. Frequent sallies of wit, for which the Franklin club has a reputation of its own, and an abundant supply of humor tempered the harangues of the orators and the audience was unanimous in its vote that the evening was an unqualified success.

In the opening speech by Dr. A. R. Kempter, on "Wiscinson Progressives," he said: "I well remember about fourteen years ago when this great cause was on trial for its life. I was one of the skeptical, not because of my own judgment in the matter, but I listened to those who were assaulting and misrepresenting this progressive movement.

"When these anti-progressive orators told me that these measures were all right in theory, but not in practice, that we were making an experimental station out of our great state of Wisconsin, and that if enacted into law, they would close more factories, and bring more disaster to the state of Wisconsin than any measure ever devised, I believed them, but as time went on, I was amazed to see that our state was not only equally as prosperous as other states, but that it surpassed many of them. I was astonished to learn that the corporations were not driven from the state, and that the factories were not closed, but on the contrary they increased their earnings.

Model State

"When men like Theodore Roosevelt declared this to be a model state, and other states began to copy our laws and follow the example of Wisconsin, I was proud of Wisconsin, and felt that I would be a traitor to my state and to my country if I did not advocate these progressive measures, and thanks to the Franklin club, I am in a small way able to do so.

"The great success attained by the Wisconsin progressives has led others to call themselves progressives, and it might be well at this time to define the term 'Wisconsin progressives' so that we can distinguish the real progressives from the imposters.

Progressive Democrats

"A Wisconsin, or real progressive is one, who, by his deeds, (not his words) makes the will of the people the law of the land. While the movement originated in the republican party in this state it is easily discernible that it is not necessary to be a republican in order to be a progressive. In fact it is doubtful whether the progressive movement in this state could ever have been consummated without the aid of the progressive democrats or without the assistance of that peerless leader, William Jennings Bryan.

"It is the policy of the Wisconsin progressives to give honor to whom honor is due, no matter what party they may be affiliated with. As each speaker here tonight tells of achievements of his party to make the will of the people the law of the land, we heartily rejoice with you, and in return we appeal to you, to glory in the achievements of Robert La Follette and the Wisconsin progressives.

"Let us place our country ahead of our party and be broadminded, patriotic American citizens, and advocate wise and just measures no matter who propose them. Not for the sake of any man, or any party, but for the sake of humanity. Let us fight for the right, and assail political dishonesty as quickly in our party as in any other, and thereby check this great change from the golden rule, to the rule of gold.

"Let us be true to that word inscribed in the seal of our great state, and extend this progressive movement 'onward' until finally his kingdom will come and his will be done on earth as it is in heaven."

Mr. Samuel Johnson talked on the party of the future. He kept his audience in a continual uproar with his humor. He said that his party stood for the conservation of men and women, and eternal justice to all.

Paul T. Schultz spoke on the "Bull Moose Party." He said: "It has fallen to my part to represent the bull moose party, and at the outset, let me say I have no apologies to make for the party, but have nothing but commendation. Some people have said, 'there was no need of the bull moose party, and that we were ahead of the times.'"

W. E. Barber gave reminiscences of the "G. O. P." He said he was glad that he believed in the "resurrection," and that is worth tarrying over a party which has brought the country from infancy to what it is at the present time. Mr. Barber's unusual humor kept his hearers in a continual laugh throughout his talk.

Trade Philippines for Ireland

A. H. Schubert talked on "Democracy Triumphant." He added to the gayety of the evening by saying that when Woodrow Wilson takes the chair in March, he will trade the Philippine Islands for Ireland, so the United States can raise its own policemen.

A. J. Philips of West Salem reached the acme of jokedom in his speech on "The Country boy vs. the City Boy." He diverged greatly from his topic, and kept his hearers in a laugh, telling amusing stories and incidents that happened in his life.

After all the other speakers had concluded their oratory, Toastmaster Schlabach called upon Rev. Ambrose Murphy, who turned loose his wot on the preceding speakers. Among his sallies the following quips brought laughter:

"The toastmaster said he wouldn't incumber me with a subject. I didn't notice that the subjects assigned incumbered any of the speakers here this evening.

"I followed all of the speakers fairly well until Mr. Philips led us to that forks-in-the-road story. I was lost in the woods from that time on.

"We've heard a lot about progressives. We have progressives with us all the time. They are like the poor in that respect. They hang onto a job and then proceed to progress from one job to another as long as there are jobs to be had. (Great applause from W. E. Barber).

"When there are no more jobs and they are again out in the cold world they become standpatters.

"Sam Johnson told us much of the eternal truths of socialism. Socialists talk of eternal truths and they don't believe in eternity. They speak of truth and yet deny God. Of source Sam Johnson believes in eternity and God but he isn't a socialist. He said the principles of socialism are too profound for him. That is no doubt the fact. If he understood them he would not be a socialist.

Scorches Bull Moose

"We also heard a very estimable banker eulogizing the bull moose. He said he had no apology to offer for the bull moose. He probably knew it wouldn't be accepted. 'Bull moose.' That's a beastly name. Theodore Roosevelt is the father of it. He is also the father of the Ananias club. That must make the bull moose and the Ananias club near twins.

"I wonder where Mr. Ahlstrom got his ideas of the history of the race. He had a man running about in the woods alone, and a woman running about in the woods alone, and a child running about in the woods alone. I was wondering how he was going to get them together. If some of these latterday suffragetes get running things we'll probably all want to take to the woods.

"Mr. Barber still holds hope for the G. O. P. That shows how great his faith in resurrection is. G. O. P. That stands for 'Graft on the People,' this grand old party of Mark Hanna and Boise Penrose.

"Mr. Schubert exultantly proclaims a triumphant democracy. Democracy was triumphant in 1892 to 1896. The country never will forget those four long years.

"Democracy has a tremendous work to do if it would relieve the people of this country of the injustices of present conditions. You see after all we, whether we are bull moosers or republicans or democrats or socialists, have about the same idea. We recognize the same wrongs and want to free ourselves of them. The only difference between us is as to our way of accomplishing the result.

"As Mr. Philips has said, seven minutes is a short time in which to make a speech. He said that every ten minutes regularly.

"Let's do our part conscientiously regardless of party to free this land of slavery regardless as to its form: let's do what we can to protect every man, woman and child in the rights that are theirs, and to bring about conditions that make for the greatest happiness to all mankind."

Harry Robinson spoke on "The Young man," R. V. Ahlstrom on "Woman's Vote," and W. J. Gaughren on the "Workingman's Vote."

The festivities ended at 11:40, everyone declaring that never in the history of the club had their banquet been such a success.

BENEVOLENT BOSS OF HOOSIER SOLONS

Thomas Taggart.

Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman from Indiana, is undisputed boss of the Hoosier legislature at its present session. Taggart is proving a benevolent boss this time, however. He has come out for progressive legislation, and is championing the measures which Woodrow Wilson is working for in New Jersey. It is said that Taggart wants to be senator, and is working hard to get into the good graces of the president-elect, whose assistance he will need when he (Taggart) gets into the senatorial race in 1915.

Climate Failed; Medicine Effective

It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air and good food do help many persons suffering from Tuberculosis. But it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed.

Eckman's Alterative is a medicine made for the treatment of Tuberculosis. It has conquered this disease again and again. Often these benefits have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal—yet recoveries resulted. Now we argue that Eckman's Alterative should be used in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food and fresh air, which we all need. A remarkable case follows:

Weldon, Ill.

"Gentlemen: Through Eckman's Alterative I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected; my sputum was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. On February 21, 1905, I was advised to go to Fort Worth, Texas. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1 and arrived in Canon City June 3, very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 103 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

"On July 14, 1905, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption. Today I weigh 158 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about by grain elevator. I have not an ache nor pain in my lungs, eat well, sleep well, and never felt better."

(Sworn Affidavit.)

ARTHUR WEBB.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Sore Throat and Lung Troubles and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Geo. E. Mariner, Chas. Beyschlag and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.—Advertisement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. — The McLean bill for federal protection of migratory birds was passed without opposition by the senate and sent over to the house.

John B. Burnham, president of the American Game Protective and Propagation association, through the efforts of which the matter of federal protection was brought to an issue, was present. He said:

"The passage of this bill is the greatest step in the right direction that has ever been made in the cause of game protection in this country. If the bill passes the house and becomes a law, we shall be in a position to save from extinction many species of valuable game and insectivorous birds that are otherwise doomed.

BAKER IS FINED

Antony Schaffer, a baker, was fined $1 and costs by Judge Edward Cronon in police court this morning for selling bread under weight. According to the charges made by City Sealer Eugene Derr, Schaffer has been selling wheat bread which weighs less than sixteen ounces to the loaf and rye bread weighing less than eighteen ounces.

He Made Sure.

A story is told of the Sudan railway which shows patient literalness. To an official there came the telegram from an outlying station: "Station master has died. Shall I bury him?" The reply was sent: "Yes; bury station master, but please make sure he is really dead before you do so." In due time back came the message: "Have buried station master. Made sure he was dead by hitting him twice on the head with a fish plate." There was perfect assurance that there had been no premature burial.

Peeling Potatoes.

To overcome difficulty in peeling potatoes wash them and put them in unsalted water to boil. When parboiled remove and peel—the skins come off easily—and then put them in boiling water, seasoned with salt, and finish cooking them. This not only saves trouble and time, but if quickly done adds to the mealy qualities of the potato.

Coming from behind, however, doesn't represent the easiest way to get ahead.

Makes Skin Like Petals of a Rose

Exquisite Results of Skin Beautifier, the Formula Used by the Self-Made Beauty-Actress, Valeska Suratt

"For years I used all the well known skin beautifiers in an attempt to find one that would produce the exquisite results I wanted. I became disgusted with their slowness and their lack of effectiveness. Many were absolutely useless. Finally, I hit upon a formula which astounded me by its quick and exquisite results. I would not be without it for a good sum of money. Here is the formula, which I made up myself, and use on hands, arms, face and shoulders.

"Let half a pint of water come almost to a boil. Add two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. Keep stirring, while adding one ounce of zintone, until it is all dissolved. Then let cool. If the cream is too thick to pour easily from a bottle, thin it down a little with more hot water. The cream will be white and satiny. After bathing in the morning, hold a wet, hot towel to the fact several times for several minutes. Rub this cream on the entire face liberally. Let the cream dry on the face. Repeat this again at night. Any good druggist will sell you an ounce of zintone for not more than fifty cents.

"Hundreds of my friends have used it, and always with the same result—a skin as exquisitely beautiful, as satiny, soft and pure, as one could ever hope to have or see. In a short time, all freckles, red spots, muddiness, sallowness, liver spots, all blemishes vanish."—Advertisement.

USELESS WORRY.

There are two things which we ought not to fret about—things which we can help and things which we cannot. If you can help, why do you not apply the remedy? If you cannot, you may as well surrender at once and save useless worry.

GLEE CLUB WILL SING AT CHURCH

The evangelistic meetings at the First Methodist Episcopal church last night were well attended and Evangelist Barker gave a stirring address on "Christ the Advocate." The chorus choir rendered good service and there is a growing interest in the meetings. This afternoon Mr. Barker gives a bible reading at three o'clock on "Scriptural Holiness: What it is." This evening at 7:45 a big meeting is expected and the Men's Glee club of twenty voices from the German Methodist church will sing. Mr. Barker will speak. No meetings on Saturday. Rev. Dr. Faville opened the meeting with prayer. The pastor, Dr. Oadams expressed his great satisfaction with the reception given to the meetings.

Robespierre.

Robespierre of the French revolution, the man who was destined to deluge France with blood, was not long before his frightful career of power began one of the most strenuous opponents of capital punishment. While he was still an obscure advocate at his native Arras he threw up an appointment because of his opposition to this form of penalty. And just when his star was in the ascendant he boldly harangued the national assembly to prove "that the punishment of death is essentially unjust, that it has no tendency to repress crimes and that it multiplies offenses much more than it diminishes them."

Love's Grammar.

"I wish I dared to ask you something, Miss Helen," said Percy, with trembling voice and wabbling chin.

"Why don't you dare ask it?" the maiden said demurely.

"Because I can see 'No' in your eyes."

"In both of them?"

"Y-yes."

"Well, don't you—don't you know two negatives are equivalent to an—How dare you, sir? Take your arm from around my waist instantly!"

But he didn't.

A Queer Claim.

A man of wealth and education fell in love with an illiterate girl, who reciprocated his feeling. Before marrying her, however, he decided to send her away to school for four years so that she might become educated and fitted to grace his home. At the end of the four years he had experienced a change of heart, and he broke the engagement. So she sued him, and one of the items for which she claimed damage read. "To loss of time while improving my mind, $3,000." — Everybody's.

BALLOTS MAY PICK RISK COMMISSIONER

Bill Introduced in the Assembly to Take Appointive Power from Governor

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—As a result of the attempted removal of Herman L. Ekern, insurance commissioner, by Governor McGovern, a bill has been introduced in the assembly this week which, if passed, will make the office of insurance fice was made appointive.

The bill would change the method of choosing the insurance commissioner to that prevailing before the 1911 legislature, when the office was made appointive.

It is said that the bill will meet little opposition in the assembly, and stands a good chance of passage in the senate. It is considered certain, however, that should the bill pass the legislature it will be vetoed by Governor McGovern. Whether or not the bill could be passed over the governor's head is a question.

Presence of Mind.

Mme. Rachel, the great actress, was resting alone in her dressing room one night preparatory to going on the stage when a man suddenly entered and, drawing a dagger, said he was going to kill her if she did not at once consent to marry him. The actress saw at a glance that the man was mad and meant what he said. So with the utmost coolness she replied: "Certainly I will marry you. I wish nothing better. Come with me to the priest at once. I have had him come here for the purpose." She took his arm, and they went out together—to where there was assistance, of course, and the man was immediately put under arrest.

W. C. Himstock, Early, Ia., was here visiting friends today.

NEW CANDIDATE FOR PUBLIC WORKS

Arthur Roberge Announces Today that He Will Seek Place He Held Four Years Ago

A new candidate for membership on the board of public works appeared at the city hall today in the person of Arthur Roberge, 1012 Rose street. Mr. Roberge has already served one term on the board and was secretary during his service. His term ended four years ago and he was defeated when he ran for re-election. Mr. Roberge is the second to get into the race which will be settled at the spring election, C. W. Rewey having come out for a board membership about two weeks ago.

Christ Miller, 1406 Badger street, today applied for nomination papers in the office of the city clerk for the position of city treasurer. He declared that he will enter the field against George Young, present encumbent. Although none of the men in office in the city hall have announced that they will run for re-election it is understood that they will all be candidates except James Day, president of the board of public works who announced six months ago that he will not seek re-election.

Mr. Miller was formerly a member of the firm of Murray & Miller, grocers, and is at present employed at the City Grocery.

HITS JUDICIAL RECALL

BROTHER OF PRESIDENT IN SENSATIONAL ATTACK ON PROPOSED REFORM FOR DECISIONS

UTICA, N. Y., Jan. 24.—A sensational attack upon the proposed recall of judicial decisions and a plea for the submission of the Panama canal tolls to arbitration less "the United States should be false to plighted faith," were features of the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the New York State Bar association here today.

Interest centered in the discussion of the recall of decisions problem, coming as it did from Henry W. Taft, brother of the president, and noted Wall street attorney. The demand for the arbitration of the canal tolls question came from the committee on international arbitration.

MILWAUKEE ASKS MUNICIPAL REFORM

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 24.—Radical changes in the city government of Milwaukee, are advocated in three bills sent to the state legislature today by Alderman Henry Smith. The bills are endorsed by the Milwaukee Westminster Civic league and were framed by the league following a meeting at which several eminent authorities on city government delivered addresses.

The bills submitted provide for the election of a mayor for a four year term, with power to appoint a city treasurer and comptroller for the same term; the election of a city attorney for six years, at the time of the judicial election, thus divorcing the office from city politics; abolition of the present common council, putting in its place a council of twelve aldermen, six elected at large and one from each senatorial district, or a council of seventeen, one from each assembly district. The aldermen, by the terms of the proposed law, will serve four years.

NEW AUTO FIRM READY FOR SEASON

Arenz-Weihaupt Company Remodel Garage; Prepared for Repairs and Accessory Work

1913 CARS ARE NOW ON DISPLAY

Detroiter and Marathon New Models; Sixty Cars Now on Way Here

A recent change in business which is of interest to automobile owners especially, is the remodeling of the Weihaupt blacksmith shops into an automobile garage and the reorganization of the firm into the Arenz-Weihaupt Auto company. The new garage which is located at 217 Front street, is fully equipped for repair and fixture work and the front of the building has been remodeled to enable the building of a sales and show room department.

The firm has obtained the agency for two cars of standard make, the Detroiter and the Marathon, and is now negotiating for the agency of another car to suit that portion of their trade that demands a high priced machine. The 1913 models of both machines have been received and are on display. The new Marathon, sold from $875 to $1,800, is equipped with electric light and an electric self starter and is a beautiful machine in build and action. The Detroiter, an $850 to $900 car has many new improvements on the 1912 model and the firm expects to sell a large number of them here this spring. The company has contracted for sixty cars which will be shipped here in the near future.

J. S. Arenz, secretary and treasurer of the company, is now in Nashville, Tenn., where the Marathon factories are located and he will spend about a month studying the manufacture of the car before he returns. The other officers of the company were elected as follows: J. G. Weihaupt, president and general manager; George W. Weihaupt, vice president, and Mr. S. Bovee has been employed as head salesman.

It is probable that the company will build a new building in the near future to accommodate the expansion of their business.

DISPUTE FOR WILSON ?

PROBLEM OF BRITISH PROTEST ON PANAMA CANAL TOLLS MAY OUTLAST TAFT'S TENURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—Whether the Panama canal tolls dispute with Great Britain shall be a heritage of the Taft administration to President-elect Wilson was the principal topic of discussion among diplomats here today. It was admitted that the Knox rejoinder to Sir Edward Grey's note of protest would probably require the interchange of at least two or three additional notes before a complete basis of understanding is reached between the two nations.

TRY TO CLEAR TITLE

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—Attorneys John C. Thompson and Ray Hollister of Oshkosh, and Michael Eberlein of Shawano left Madison yesterday after an exhaustive delving into old state records in the state land department and the executive office, relative to the alleged cession of Indian lands on the Menomonie reservation in Shawano county by the United States to the state of Wisconsin.

Prominent lumbering concerns in Wisconsin seek quit title to lands on the reservation which they claim passed to them through purchase from the state, to which it is asserted to have been ceded by the United States. The attorneys here yesterday represented the Paine Lumber company and Seymour C. Hollister of Oshkosh, and Shawano and other lumber interests, which contend that their title is clear. The government maintains that title never passed from the United States to the state of Wisconsin, and that the lumbermen named never came into clear title to the lands.

The action to quit title will be taken by the lumbermen to the United States supreme court.

The lands in question are adjacent to the government mill at Neopit on the Menomonie reservation.

Maybe Not.

Schlabagh has been engaged as attorney for the estate by Mr. Van Dorn.

KONEY TO BECOME CUB SAY GOSSIPS

Believed Huggins Will Trade Star First Sacker to Murphy for Sheckard

Sporting gossip during the past week has centered upon a proposed trade, involving First Baseman Eddie Konetchy and other players, which it is supposed President Charles W. Murphy of the Cubs would like to make with Manager Huggins of the St. Louis Cardinals, and yesterday a visit of Murphy to Cincinnati, Huggins' home, gave rise to the belief that the deal was about to be made. This is denied today, although sporting writers still insist that Koney will open the season with the Cubs. The last word on the proposition is the following from the Chicago Daily News:

No Appointment

President Murphy of the Chicago Cubs had no special appointment in Cincinnati today to meet Miller Huggins, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, according to a report sent from there.

That puts a peculiar light on the possible and expected deal between the clubs. Murphy declared before he left here yesterday there was a prospect of a trade with the Cardinals, but Huggins declares it is all news to him. The Cub magnate added that he would like to acquire Konetchy and Harry Sallee, but the Cardinal leader has apparently squelched that hope by saying he would not trade Konetchy or Sallee under any conditions.

Trade Possible

Everything points to a possible trade in spite of Huggins' assertion. Monday President Murphy announced he received a letter from a manager in his league offering a trade Huggins has been trying to exchange players for some time and only recently declared he would like to secure Jimmy Sheckard from the Cubs.

Murphy seems to be the executive who is able to furnish Huggins the men he needs. He can spare them, as he has several extra infielders, outfielders and catchers. Phelan and Kniseley are the infielders he is willing to dispose of. Sheckard and Good the outfielders and Cotter and Heckinger the backstops. Victor Saier is likely to be included in the swap if one is made. He will not be unless the Cubs procure Konetchy. The Cub magnate remarked he would be willing to give Saier and one or more players to get Konetchy, who is an experienced man, a .300 batter and right handed.

Benefit to Both

The deal, if made, would be beneficial to both teams. Konetchy would balance the Cub infield with such men as Evers, Bridwell and Zimmerman. He would also add to the hitting strength. Harry Sallee, southpaw twirler, would give Manager Evers one of the most formidable pitching staffs in the league. The Cubs need a steady left hander. Sheckard, with his experience, ability to field and throw and to get bases on balls, would help Huggins. Good also could be used to advantage because of his speed and hitting ability. Phelan would increase the class of the infield if he were placed on third base, while Cotter and Heckinger would make ideal men for emergency catchers.

Cubs Strongest

The Cubs will be the strongest team in Lynch's organization if the trade for Konetchy and Sallee goes through, baseball men think.

"Huggins will trade Konetchy if he can get what he wants for him," said Mike Kelly, manager of the Indianapolis team. He told me he would let Konetchy go if he could make a suitable deal, for the big fellow is asking for a $7,500 salary, and that is more than the St. Louis team can pay."

Baking Helps

Learn to Regulate the Heat of Your Oven

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

There is just one way to make your cakes rise high and keep an even surface. Have your oven moderate at first, until the cake is fully rizen; then increase the heat, so as to brown it over quickly. Extreme heat stiffens the dough. If you stiffen the outside of the cake before the rising is complete, you stop the rising process. Then the leavening gas, forming inside, will bulge up the center, where the dough is still soft, and spoil the shape of the cake. 33

NOTE—Biscuits or other pastries made from stiff dough, that are cut into shapes for the oven, bake in a hot oven. This is because the cut surfaces of the dough do not sear over, but rather leave the pores open, allowing the leavening gas to escape and the heat to penetrate readily. Small ovens cool quickly; therefore they should be made several degrees hotter than a larger oven, and the less the door is opened the better. Do not attempt to bake bread and pastry together. Bread requires prolonged, moderate baking—pastry the reverse.

Have a strong underheat for baking powder preparations, especially pastry.

These are only a few of the many baking helps found in the K C Cook's Book—a copy of which may be secured by sending the colored certificate taken from a 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JAQUES MFG. CO., Chicago.

BRINGS CURE TO U. S.

PITTSBURG DOCTOR OBTAINS BACILLI SAID TO BE SAME AS FRIEDMAN TUBERCULOSIS SERUM

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Dr. Heid of Pittsburg, was booked to sail for home tomorrow carrying with him the first of the non-virulent bacilli for the cure of tuberculosis to be taken to America. He obtained the culture from Dr. Piorkowsky, after Dr. Friedman refused to give him any of the bacilli, though Dr. Heid pleaded that he wanted the cure for his sick wife, believed to be dying of consumption.

Piorkowsky, formerly was Friedman's bacteriologist and while he did not claim that the culture he had was from Friedman, he asserted that it was the same and would produce the same results.

Friedman today had not yet carried out his promise to give his secret to the German government.

His wife died two years ago.

CRITICS' ATTACK FATAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Gustav Carl Luder, the popular composer, died early today in the Times court apartments from an attack of cerebral apoplexy brought on, his friends say, by the bitter attacks made by the New York dramatic critics on the new musical play, "Somewhere Else," Luder's latest composition. Luder's was the composer of the the "Prince of Pilsen," and other successful light operas. He was born in Germany and had lived in this country since 1888.

WAITERS ON STRIKE

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The long threatened general strike of the hotel and restaurant waiters was called early today. Marching bodies of the waiters who have been on strike for several weeks, paraded past the principal hotels and called upon their fellows to walk out. At the Victoria hotel, Folies Bergere restaurant and Rector's, several hundred responded. In the other large hotels and restaurants the men were prevailed upon to wait until the proprietors had a chance today to consider their grievances and try to bring about an adjustment.

ARREST DEBS FOR BLOCKING JUSTICE

Indicted on Charge of Corrupting Witness in Appeal to Reason Case

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 24.—Eugene V. Debs, three times socialist candidate for president of the United States, was released under $1,000 bond today, following his arrest on a charge of obstructing justice by corrupting a witness in the government's case against the Appeal to Reason of Girard, Kas.

The bond, given by the socialist leader's brother, Theodore, and a brother-in-law, druggist Arthur Bauer, before Commissioner O. M. Hall, stipulated that Debs would appear at the May term of the United States court of the third Kansas district.

The indictment on which the socialist candidate was arrested was handed down two months ago.

CHICAGO STRIKE BRIEF.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—A garment workers' strike was on here for half an hour today and then declared off before it had gone into effect. On the refusal of five factories to comply with the union's demands that work done for New York shops be discontinued, committees of union men were sent to the shops with instructions to call out the employes. Hardly had they left the offices of the union when the word was received from New York to the effect that prospects for a settlement of the strike there had brightened so considerably that an agreement with the employers was in sight. Other committees were then sent out to apprehend the first ones, and the strike was temporarily declared off.

Who was the man who conceived the idea that picket fences are ornamental?

RIOTS MARK THE OVERTURNING OF OLD GOVERNMENT

all was about. It is said that several of his aides, thinking that the mob was attacking the porte, fired pointblank at Enver Bey and Talaat Pasha. They returned the fire and several of their bullets found a mark in the aged chief of staff. Nazim Pasha never regained consciousness and died later in a hospital. Two of the aides were also killed.

The new cabinet met late this afternoon to draft another reply to the joint note of the great powers. It was learned that a large part of Turkey-in-Europe, including Albania, would be offered in the interest of peace, but there was an unalterable determination not to give up Adrianople.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The Balkan war situation was complicated here today because of the fact that all despatches from Constantinople were under strictest censorship. Diplomats were not certain that the meagre information they were enabled to get was authentic.

Officially it was admitted the situation was of the gravest. From a semi-official source it was learned that the foreign office believed that Kiamil Pasha's ministry was violently ejected by the Young Turks, and not allowed to resign in an orderly manner. The killing of Nazim Pasha, chief of staff, by Enver Bey, a high military officer and one of the Young Turk leaders, confirmed this view. Talaat Bey, who secured the portfolio of minister of the interior, accompanied Enver Bey when the shots were fired that killed Nazim Pasha.

The Balkan peace delegates, called together hastily by Dr. Daneff, the Bulgarian, were in session all night and were still conferring today regarding the alarming situation. It was said that they probably would defer action until a consultation of the ambassadors of the powers was held at the foreign office.

The foreign office today received official confirmation of the killing of Nazim Pasha by Enver Bey. The dispatch from the British ambassador at Constantinople said that the aged general lived a considerable time in a hospital after he was shot. Two other Turkish officers were killed with him.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—An unconfirmed dispatch today said that the Young Turks were in possession of the palace at Constantinople.

Enver Bey, held directly responsible for the killing of Nazim Pasha, has been made military commander of Constantinople on his own demand, by Sulton Mohammed V. The Young Turks, now headed by Enver Bey, are those who led the revolutions of 1908 and 1909, which drove Abdul Hamid from the throne and set up his brother, Mohammed, as sultan. Mohammed is said to be under the complete domination of Enver Bey and his followers, and to be willing to do all they ask. The new ministry named by the sultan was dictated by Enver Bey.

The Turkish situation is regarded here as most menacing. It is believed certain now that the porte will refuse to hand over Adrianople, and that intervention by the powers is bound to result. Even then, with the Turkish military party dominant Europe might find it difficult to enforce her demands on the Ottoman without resource to arms, and that might precipitate disastrous and unlooked for consequences.

AWKWARD CHILDREN

St. Vitus' dance makes children awkward at first, then restless; later comes the twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body.

A large proportion of children of school age have St. Vitus' dance in some degree but there is no need of your child suffering with this disease, no need of leaving school or getting behind in classes. At the first sign of nervousness, of inability to sit still, sleeplessness or continued irritability give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, one after each meal. The change will soon be apparent. As the thin blood becomes rich and red, the starved nerves get the needed nourishment and the alarming symptoms vanish. There is no danger of St. Vitus unless the blood is thin. Out-of-door exercise, proper food and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills whenever a tonic is needed will keep any growing child in trim.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are valuable in all diseases where the blood is at fault, as in chlorosis, rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, headaches, and debility due to overwork, worry or nervousness.

Delays are dangerous in diseases caused by thin blood. They do not correct themselves. They get worse. So get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store today and begin the treatment. If you want to know what the remedy has actually done write for our book of cures.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50 at druggists or from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

MONROE HISTORY STORY OF STRIFE

Peaceful Prosperity of Today Result of Blood and Sweat of Pioneer Invaders

PROUD WAR RECORD IS WRITTEN

Col. R. A. Richards of Sparto Compiles Valuable Work on Early and Modern Events

The early history of any Wisconsin community, dealing as it must with strife, toil and hardship—strife against the primeval wilderness and against its no less wild inhabitants—toil and hardship in the taming of this wilderness land, rich and fertile, to the purposes of civilization, well may furnish material for romance and tragedy beyond the works of fiction. The struggles of the pioneer settlers of Wisconsin against the obstacles of nature, their battles for life and home against the savage redmen, and their victory won with blood and sweat has been told and retold, written and rewritten in chronicles of deeds and men. No place has this tale better been told than in the history of Monroe county, which has just been compiled and sent to subscribers by its editor, Colonel R. A. Richards of Sparta.

Many Illustrations

A volume of nearly a thousand pages, profusely illustrated, with pictures of its history makers, Colonel Richards' compilation is a work of remarkable research. Beginning with the earliest migrations and affairs of the Indian tribes who made the life of the white settler one of peril and uncertainty, as handed down by the traditions and records kept by the redmen themselves, the tale is taken up and carried by the white pioneers until the story, woven of the threads of several generations, is complete to today. The story of Monroe county's contribution to the nation in the civil war when six companies of troops, in all 927 men, of whom 141 gave their lives that the union might survive, enlisted for the most part in the famous Iron Brigade, gives the soldier hand of its author an opportunity to portray deeds that have made Monroe county's war record in keeping with that of the pioneers who fought their way into possession of its land and industries. The enlistment during the Spanish-American war proved conclusively that the second and third generation feared not the path their fathers trod.

Story of Early Tribes

The history begins with the story of the travels and troubles of the Winnebago Indians and as one reads it is impossible to keep down a throb of sympathy for the miserable remnants of a once mighty race. The Black Hawk war, the last stand of the redmen against the encroachment of white invasion, is a pathetic tale of injustice and the attempt of a brave chieftain to lead his bands against hopeless odds.

The coming of the railroads, evidence of the permanency of civilization as compared to the occupancy of its savage inhabitants, is the beginning of the development that has made Monroe county one of the foremost and most prosperous counties in the state. The growth in prosperity was delayed and hampered by the heavy enlistment of her best men during the civil war, but at the end of the war the county again took up her march of progress. Colonel Richards' history contains a full roster of the officers and men and the list of those who died in the service.

The government military reservations at Camp Douglas and Camp McCoy are described in detail together with the history of their purchase, uses and benefits. The account of the growth and development of the cities of Sparta and Tomah and the other towns and villages of the county, with their industries, institutions and progress, is fraught with unusual interest. The story of the county seat war, the big fire at Sparta and its near annihilation by cyclone, the oil boom out of which many of its citizens came poorer but wiser, is an account of some of the more notable history.

The Indian Industrial school finds fitting place in the book and the work of the government in an attempt to retrieve the wrongs of the fathers by helping their descendants to learn the better ways of their conquerors adds much to the story. The legal and medical fraternities, religion, business and the agricultural interests of the county receive due attention and a long list of biographies of her prominent men and women brings the work to a close. The book is published by C. F. Cooper & Co. of Chicago and has been placed on the market.

SPOTLIGHTS

THE STORY OF "MADAME X"

"Madame X," that great mother love drama, with Laura Frankenfield as the woman, will be the attraction at the La Crosse theater Wednesday, February 5. Announcement has been made for a special matinee.

Jaqueline, the wife of Louis Floriot, is driven from her home of luxury because she left him for another man. She repents and comes back but Floriot relentlessly orders her out, keeping their son Raymond with him.

In a later scene, twenty years having elapsed, shows Jaqueline living as a disreputable woman, compelled to seek forgetfulness through opiates and drugs, and drifting through the world with any man who will support her. Laroque, an adventurer, with whom she is living, enters on a scheme with two others to blackmail the former husband, a clew to his identity having been found. Rather than have the son learn of the infamy of his mother, Jaqueline kills Laroque, and for the crime is placed in jail and is afterward given a trial. Raymond, the son, who has studied for the bar, defends her. Recognition comes in the powerful last act of the court room scene. His eloquent appeal to the jury saves the woman, but not her life. She craves forgiveness from the son and obtains it, but fate, to punish her grants only a few moments of a wrecked life in which to enjoy the last full measure of a devotion that is hers.

ARCTIC EXPLORER COMING

Modesty is unquestionably the predominant characteristic of Captain Roald Amundson, the discoverer of the south pole who is now in New York on his American tour, preliminary to his forthcoming drift across the north polar sea in the same vessel, the "Fram," that carried him to the Antarctic.

This Norwegian explorer who displayed such dauntless courage, unflinching perseverance and wonderful foresight in his search for the southernmost extremity of the earth, was most unselfish when the goal was in sight for on the final dash four of his companions accompanied him and it was five pair of hands that planted the flag of King Haakon VII at the south pole on December 14, 1911. Again in his hour of triumph it was not Amundsen who was photographed with the flag fluttering to the breeze, for he modestly gave the place of honor to a member of this little party who posed there at the southern end of the earth's axis beside his sledge, with whip in hand and surrounded by the few surviving Eskimo dogs.

All the honors he has since received in the way of decorations, both in Europe and America, have not enlarged his head in the slightest degree. Charmingly simple and unaffected he tells the story of his exploits.

The public is now familiar with Captain Amundsen's discoveries, but few know much about the earlier career of the man, who at the age of 41 years has discovered the south pole, the north magnetic pole, the northwest passage, and who on his next voyage will drift across the North Polar sea from the Behring Straits to Greenland.

Captain Amundsen is a rare combination of intelligence, pluck, endurance, good sense, humor, knowladge and a foresight in providing for all emergencies that almost stamps him a genius in the art of overcoming obstacles of exploration. No other explorer, it is said, has ever approached him in the thoroughness with which he provides for all contingencies when preparing for an expedition, and it is this that has made him so successful. He provided the members of his party with everything in the way of proper clothing, food, medicine and comfort on the long and perilous journey. Everything that he had was of the best—dogs, sledges, sleeping bags and outfit generally.

Captain Amundsen is a splendid specimen of robust manhood and he appears to inherit the spirit of the ancient Viking. Like a true Norseman, he is ever ready for adventure on the high seas. He stands more than six feet high and has not an ounce of superfluous flesh. His eyes are steel grey and are prone to twinkle with merriment and good humor. From boyhood his spirit had been kindled with a desire to share the honors he had seen bestowed upon the great explorers who got back to Christiania after making discoveries in the polar regions.

COMMISSION MAKES RULING ON OFFSET

Individual Can't Use His Personalty Receipt to Offset Partnership Income Tax

MAY CREDIT OVERPAYMENTS

Persons Who Certified Too Large Receipts to Get Credit on 1913 Taxes

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24. — A score of complaints come to the state tax commission every day regarding what constitutes a personal property offset to the income tax. The income tax law provides that if a person or corporation has paid a personal property tax, say for the year 1912, the receipt for such tax may be presented to the tax collector in payment of income taxes which have become due in said year. So many inquiries are coming in that the tax commission has laid down a general rule on the subject.

"The personal property tax must be asssessed against the same individual, corporation or partnership, that is assessed for an income tax in order to be able to avail himelf of the offset," declared Nils P. Haugen, chairman of the state tax commission today. "An individual partner cannot use his personal property receipt as an offset against income tax partnership, nor can a personal property tax partnership be used as an offset in payment of the income tax of an individual partner."

In a number of cases the parties making out the income tax did not understand the law and certified larger receipts than they should. The legislature will be asked to pass a law, applicable to the income tax for last year only, permitting the commission to give the individual credit on next year's taxes for any overpayments which he may have made this year. While these mistakes should be corrected this year the commission does not believe that the law should be made permanent as this would only lead to continual negligence on the part of the taxpayers. The commission contends that as the result of one year's operation of the law, the people will understand the law sufficiently so that no la wallowlaw sufficiently so that no law allowing "future credit" should apply to more than the first year's collections.

A case was brought to the aetention of the commission recently by the Token Creek Creamery company of Token Creek, where the creamery certified all of the amounts that had been paid to the patrons who brought milk to the factory as "income." The factory contends that the amount paid the patrons was income to the patrons, taxable under the law, and not to the creamery company. Many other similar instances of this kind, involving small amounts, have arisen.

BADGER SCHOOLS CHEAP

COSTS 16 CENTS A DAY FOR EACH PUPIL IN WISCONSIN COMPARED TO 23 IN MINNESOTA

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—The division of education of the Russell Sage Foundation of New York may establish a few model rural schools in Wisconsin. Every member of the legislature received a booklet today from the foundation giving a comparative study of the public school systems in the forty-eight states. The report shows that for every $100 of wealth, Wisconsin 31 cents for schools; Illinois 29 cents; Minnesota 30 cents, and Oklahoma, which has the largest proportion, 75 cents. The report shows that it costs 16 cents each day for one day's schooling for one child in the state of Wisconsin, as compared to 23 cents in Minnesota; 22 cents in Illinois and in South Carolina, which has the lowest percentage, 7 cents for each child. The report shows that 3.2 per cent of the people in the state of Wisconsin are illiterate; 3 per cent in Minnesota, and 3.7 in Illinois.

REVISION OF THE STATUTES ENDED

Laws Formerly Occupying Three Foot Shelf Now Compressed Into One Volume

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—A new enterprise by the state of Wisconsin, the first to be tried by any state, was consummated last week with the issuance of the revised statutes of the state. It comprises all the statutes in force at the present time. An edition of 8,000 copies, to be sold at $5 each, will yield $40,000, a sum more than covering the total cost of the revisor's office for the past three years. The revision was the work of L. J. Nash of Manitowoc and his assistant, Arthur F. Belitz, of Madison.

The volume, containing 2,700 pages, is a compilation of the laws heretofore contained in two volumes of the statutes of 1898, one volume of Sanborn's Supplement of 1906, and eight volumes of session laws. Laid in a row, these volumes made a three-foot shelf, all of which now is covered in the one new volume brought down to date. The advantage of the work to lawyers and legislators, through the avoidance of all extraneous sections, is best appreciated by the legal profession, from whom has come an insistent demand for delivery of the volume at the earliest possible moment.

LIMIT 4 YARDS TO A CUSTOMER.

HER CONDITION QUITE CRITICAL

Suffered From Terrible Train of Symptoms. Thinks Fatal Outcome Was Avoided by Timely Use of Cardui.

Columbia, S. C.—In a letter from this city, Miss Carrie Meetze says: "I was a perfect wreck, from sickness. I had pains in my right side, weak, fainting spells, dizziness, then numb and cold feelings.

At times, my feet were so swollen I could not walk a step.

I also had backache, headache, was nervous, appetite good at times, more often not, and my kidneys troubled me.

A friend advised me to give Cardui, the woman's tonic, a trial. I did so, and from the very first it helped me.

At the end of two months, the swelling in my feet had gone down, and I was relieved from all the pains.

I continued taking Cardui, and now I do almost all my housework.

I am willing for you to publish what I write, for the good of other women, for I am sure that Cardui saved me from the grave."

The symptoms described in the above letter are proof that this lady was suffering from womanly trouble, and her cure shows that she took the right medicine for her trouble, namely: Cardui, the woman's tonic.

If you suffer as she did, do as she did, take Cardui, and it will surely do for you what it did for her. Why not?

MISSISSIPPIAN IS ANGRY AT M'GOVERN

Insurance Commissioner in Letter Registers Discontent at Removal of Ekern

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—T. M. Henry, insurance commissioner of the state of Mississippi, has registered his discontent over the removal of Herman L. Ekern as insurance commissioner of this state. He declared in a letter he wished he were in Madison to impress upon Governor McGovern "to undo the mischief, not only to Wisconsin, but to the entire country as well."

"I am genuinely distressed," he continued, "to note Governor McGovern's action in asking for your resignation, because you seem to have refused to be an automaton; and from what I have seen in the papers I think the same was high handed, tyrannical and unreasonable. I sincerely trust he may see the error of his ways, and you permitted to remain in the place you honor with such signal ability. I regard you as one of the ablest and most conservative commissioners in the United States, and the insurance department of Wisconsin, with you and my friend Anderson at the helm, as second to none in the United States; and that is the opinion of all the commissioners, without dissent."

SURVEYOR HOLDS OFFICE RECORDS

GREEN BAY, Wis., Jan. 24.—Auguest Brauns, county surveyor of Brown county for twenty-five years, has removed various maps, and other records of that office and has refused to return them to his successor in office.

Circuit Judge Hastings issued an order on Thursday requiring Mr. Brauns to show cause why he should not deliver to his successor all the records, which it is claimed, rightfully belong to the county.

OSBORN FAVORS MUNSEY SCHEME

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 24.—Former Gov. Chase S. Osborn of Michigan, who spent yesterday in Milwaukee on his way to Chicago, characterized as a "happy co-ordination" the union of the republican and progressive parties proposed by Mr. Frank A. Munsey, bull moose leader. He deprecated the bitterness that has entered politics through the clouding of principles by personalities, and expressed the hope that the politicians would adopt a more sportsmanlike attitude.

STUDENT AFTER SCHWITTAY SEAT

MARINETTE, Wis., Jan. 24.—William T. Hass, aged 21, student in the University of Wisconsin, in a letter to local politicians, has announced his candidacy for the nomination to fill the vacancy in the legislature occasioned by the death of A. E. Schwittay.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Absent Voting

The rapid increase of transportation facilities in recent years, the steadily growing tendency to conduct business upon a large scale ad hence over wide areas, lower railway fares and better accommodations have greatly increased the amount of traveling done and the number of persons therefore who are necessarily absent from home on election day. Traveling salesmen, railway employes, mail clerks, and many others are now compelled to choose between sacrificing two days of election week from their employment or losing their votes. Many who are away from home at the beginning of the week are required to travel hundreds of miles or submit to disfranchisement. This condition of affairs has become more marked each year and should not be permitted to continue. It concerns not only a large and steadily increasing numbe- of citizens who are entitled to vote but the state itself and the people as a whole who are interested in having every important political question determined by a majority of all who desire to vote. In consequence, numerous plans have been suggested for absent voting or balloting by mail. In Australia, Tasmania, Kansas and elsewhere some of these plans have been put in operation and have been found to work well. I most respectfully recommend the enactment of similar legislation for Wisconsin. While securing to persons necessarily absent from their homes on election day the right to cast their ballot, the law should be so drawn as to exclude the possibility of fraud or too great delay in counting the votes.

Initiative, Referendum and Recall

The proposed initiative, referendum and recall amendments to the constitution are before you for final passage before submission to the people for their approval. The ideas embodied in them are no longer new. In their present form they are, I believe, the best resolutions upon these subjects adopted by any state legislature. All parties are pledged to the constitutional changes they propose. I therefore recommend that they be passed at this session without unnecessary delay. Other suggestions for constitutional amendment are also before you and will undoubtedly receive your careful consideration.

GET COMPENSATION ALTHOUGH DRUNK

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 24.—That intoxication does not constitute wilful misconduct on the part of an employe, within the meaning of the workman's compensation law was held today by the industrial commission when it awarded to Millie Smith, widow of Pat Smith, compensation in the sum of $2,040, to be paid in weekly installments, by the Neekoosa-Edwards Paper company of Grand Rapids.

The evidence is conclusive, says the commission, that Smith was intoxicated and it found that but for the intoxication the accident which caused the death of Smith would not have happened.

HEAD OF SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION QUITS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 24.—Miss Lutie E. Stearns yesterday resigned the office of president of the Wisconsin Woman's Suffrage association, to which she was elected in November, 1912, at a convention in the Hotel Pfister.

"I accepted the presidency," said Miss Stearns last night, when asked her reason for resigning, "with a view of aiding in a union of suffrage organizations of the state, as I greatly deplored duplication of expense, effort and time.

"I found the association I represented unwilling to accept conditions laid down by the Political Equality league, and, as the decision seems irrevocable, I have resigned."

Foods That Bind Little Children

Start Them Off Right With a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Diet

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can never tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands endorse it, among them Mrs. M. E. Darling, R. F. D. No. 4, Belleview, Pa., who writes: "I certain think Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin saved my baby's life. Marjorie is a bottle baby and could not get her food to digest, but I found by giving her a small dose of Syurp Pepsin when she had colic it always cured her." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

MARJORIE DARLING

Everyone like Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-griping and free from injurious ingredients.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Turkish war reports offset heavy Argentine shipments in the grain pit today and grains were a little higher. Higher prices in outside markets was another factor.

May wheat opened up ⅜c and held firm. The same tendency was cabled from Liverpool.

Corn opened unchanged and held firm most ofthe day, despite a large visible supply reported. Toward noon July corn yielded ¼c.

Oats had a steady opening and continued strong. May options opened ¼c up and held firm. July opened ¼c up and went another ⅛c higher.

Provisions had a slight decline at the start, but recovered and at noon were a shade higher than yesterday. Trading was brisk.

MRS. TSCHARNER IMPROVES.

Mrs. W. B. Tscharner, wife of Postmaster Tscharner, returned from Rochester today, where she submitted to an operation on her throat three weeks ago. Mrs. Tscharner has recovered almost entirely from her illness.

When the wolf is at the door we can at any rate dispense with a watch dog.

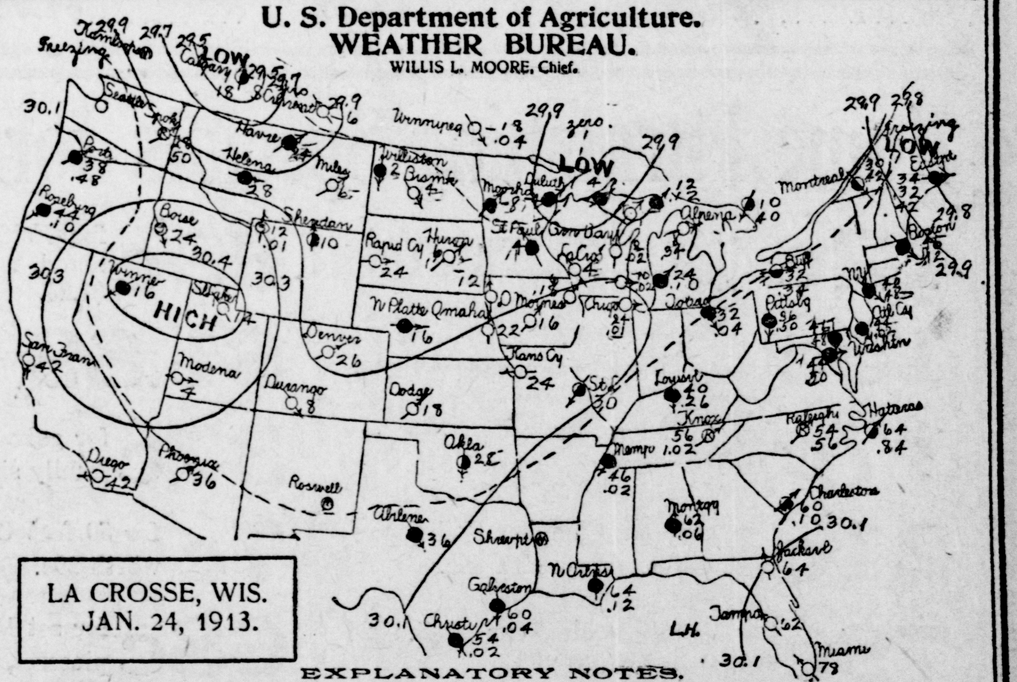

A man seldom appeals to a woman unless he has a little brutality in his makeup.

JUDGING A MAN.

There is nothing that needs so much patience as just judgment of a man or even of one act of a man. We ought to know his education, the circumstances of his life, the friends he has made or lost, the motives which filled the act, the health he had at the time, the books he was reading, the temptations of his youth. We ought to have the knowledge of God to judge justly, and God is the only judge of a man.—Stopford Brooke.

MILWAUKEE PLACED ON W.-I. CIRCUIT

Aurora Franchise Taken Over by Wisconsin City; Rockford May Follow Aurora

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 24.—Milwaukee was admitted to the Wisconsin-Illinois league at a special meeting of clubowners held at the Hotel Pfister Thursday afternoon, and the Cream City will be one of the spokes of the tight little Badger baseball wheel next season. Milwaukee takes the place of Aurora, which was dropped because of the poor support accorded the national sport there. Charles F. Moll, former head of the league, will conduct the affairs of the Cream City club.

Though Rockford was represented at the meeting, it was hinted that the only remaining Illinois town in the league might also be dropped before the season opens. This would make the league a Wisconsin organization exclusively. In this event, Sheboygan will take the place of the border town.

State Leaguers Pleased

The entrance of Milwaukee into the circuit was hailed with delight by the state leaguers.

"The addition of Milwaukee to the circuit is a great boost for baseball in Wisconsin," said John Kluwin, the Muggsy McGraw of the Oshkosh club. "It will revive interest in baseball throughout the circuit, and will give us a chance to get back some of the money we have lost in seasons past."

Kluwin also took exception to the reports published in a Milwaukee paper that a low class of ball is played in the W.-I. circuit.

High Class Ball Played

"The person who wrote that stuff is making himself look foolish in the eyes of baseball fans throughout the circuit," said Kluwin. "We play better ball in our league than is played in many Class B circuits, and if there is a faster Class C organization in the national association I would like to know where it is. The Wisconsin-Illinois league has sent any number of fellows into the big leagues, among them being Konetchy, Lange of the White Sox, Luderus, Warhop, Miller of the Cubs and Dolan of Philadelphia. But of course Milwaukee fans can judge for themselves, and I guess we can stand the test."

Just who will manage the local club is a question. Moll is said to have selected a manager but is withholding his name. The Aurora players are for sale, and it is possible that Milwaukee will take Pitcher Pieh. He is a big fellow with an excellent spitter. Moll has a large number of men already signed for his team, and he promises to give the other seven clubs a hot fight for the pennant his first year out.

CUBAN LEADS IN CHESS TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—With three games to his credit, the stock of Jose R. Capablanca, of Havana, went soaring and friends of the Cuban had plenty of money to back up their assertions that he would carry off top honors in the National Chess Masters' tournament. This afternoon Capablanca was pitted against Morrison when play is resumed at the Cafe Boulevard. The winner of last night's match with Whitaker is confident that he will another another win to his score.

BASEBALL TEAMS MAY TOUR WORLD

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Talk of another world tour by the major teams was revived today when it became known that McGraw had talked the matter over with Manager Comiskey of the White Sox.

Last fall McGraw made a half-hearted attempt to carry out the plan, but the matter was dropped partly because of the financial risk and partly because many of the players refused to go. If the Giants and the White Sox make the trip, their going will not be contingent on either winning the championship in their respective leagues.

CROSS ANGERED BY BUFFALO CRITICS

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Considerably peeved at Buffalo fight critics who, he says, did not give him a square deal when he fought Jimmy Duffy the other night, Leach Cross, the East Side dentist, declared today that he would leave no doubt as to the decision when he meets Joe Shugrue in the Warden next Wednesday night. Cross began work at the new Polo Athletic club today. Shugrue, a likely youngster, has been training for more than a week.

The Surety Fund Life Co.,
Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 7, 1910.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—

I take pleasure in stating that when taking charge in 1893 of the affairs of the Children's Endowment Society of this city as receiver, I found among its assets fifty-six (56) Farm Mortgages aggregating $42,300, which had been purchased of the present management of the Interstate Securities Company. Being obliged to realize upon these mortgages as rapidly as possible, I commenced calling for payments as fast as they became due, and the result was exceedingly satisfactory. I collected every dollar of interest and principal of every mortgage, and without any loss whatever. Furthermore, this was done in as hard times as have ever been known in the Northwest.

I have had considerable experience with investments, and certainly consider Farm Loans, when well selected, to be among the very best securities to be had.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) LESLIE C. LANE,
President.
